Childhood adversity, especially sexual violence, in many ways mirrors a virus. It is hidden, toxic and in some cases deadly at first contact.

However, for all the long impacts play out across a lifespan and impact society directly or indirectly also.

Society needs to see beyond ACE numbers and hear the trauma stories which have shaped people.

If we get that right, it will have as much impact as reversing climate change over the next 20 - 30 years and enhance our shared communities' futures profoundly.
